SENATOR VOORHEES will arrive in the city next Monday.

THE organs have grown significantly silent on the St. John "bribery" question. Some one might interview Mr. Elkins and others of the National Republican Committee.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR MANSON is proving a graceful presiding officer. The Senators to a man respect the old hero, who is as patriotic in peace as he was gallant in war.

Stapley Matthws will be held in Washington 10-day. The interment, however, will take place at Spring Grove Cemetery, near

It is said that Mrs. Logan received a teleram from Springfield, Ill., on the 19th that her husband's chances for the Senatorship hal yanished. The General seems to be hard luck. He might help Blaine finish his second volume

THERE is no economy in curtailing the accommodations of the insane, blind and feeble; folk. Let the State give them abundance of room, food and raiment. Let the appropriations be generous without being extravagant, and then let the Republican organs howl.

Over in England Edmond Yates, editor of London Truth, is to repose in jail four months for taking the name of a lord in vain. The British people will some day learn that the average titled English snob is not the Lord referred to in the Third Com-

LOT WRIGHT was at fault in organizing the force of United States Marshals. He ought to have had more fighting men at the polls. There were four wards in which the Marshals should have been stronger and quicker to resent brutal in-suits.—Commercial Gazette.

Where were the ten "United States Marshals" who were colonized from Indianapolis when the tug of battle was on?

MR. CLEVELAND has no intimate friends, and never had any, some one says. This might be received as a recommendation or not. If friends have a good influence over a man the more the better. When a man reaches the Presidency, however, it is not a good time to select "intimate friends." One can not try their "adoption," as Shakspeare | to die.

ONE Mr. John B. Finch, of Boston, evidently studied with care certain interrogatories which Judge David Turpie, the Sentinel's leading attorney, propounded to Candidate Blaine a few months since. Mr. Finch comes at Mr. Clarkson, of Iowa, with the same jackscrew process, doing up that Republican maligner of John P. St. John something as Blaine was done up. For particulars see another column.

Proper have not been running around asking who this man Evarts is, who has been elected to the Senate of the United States by the State of New York .- Commercial Gazette

The people are well posted on all who had a hand in the swindle of 1876, or who accepted the fruits of it. He was in the Hayes Cabinet. That is the reason that "people have not been running around asking who this man Evarts is." Send Hayes to the Senate from Ohio and no one will be "running around" asking who he is. Hayes, however, is gathering some reputation as hen fancier. That may mix things in the poultry market.

More rumors from Albany continue t agitate the political atmosphere. The Hon. Meker has been to see Mr. Cleveland, and the Washington Critic says: "Mr. Tucker is reported to have said that Mr. Cleveland does not feel kindly toward the McLean element of the Ohio Democracy, but, on the contrary, expressed himself in very emphatic language concerning the attitude of the Cincinnati Enquirer in the early stages of the campaign." If this is true, it would seem to explode the idea that Editor Mc-Lean is going to have much to do with the formation of the Cabinet.

A Washington dispatch says that Senator Garland had been called to another conference at Albany. He left Washington quietly Tuesday, and it was given out that he had gone to Arkansas; but it is stated by those who pretend to know that he went direct to Albany. The Star remarks, in connection with the same, that Senators are discussing prise at the Arkansas Sanator being called supposed resulted in his being offered a Cabinet place. Some say that they have observed that Mr. Garland has been quietly getting the views of some of the leading Mr. Cleveland, and speculating upon this has been taken into Mr. Cleveland's confidence, and is being consulted with regard to the construction of the Cabinet.

RECOMMENDED BY A REPUBLICAN. General John B Gordon, of Georgia, is ad-OFFICE: 71 and 73 West Market Street. vanced by the New York Times for a place in President Cleveland's Cabinet. The Times quotes an Eastern Republican as saying he wondered that a man so estimable, so competent and so consistently progressive from the day he surrendered as a soldier of the Confederacy, was not brought forward by the leading Southern men who could command the attention of Mr. Cleveland.

John B. Gordon, next to Robert E. Lee and "Stonewall" Jackson, was the most admired by the South of all the Confederate Generals. He was, also, one of the most respected by the Federal soldiery. His methods of warfare were entirely legitimate-very different from those of the guerralla Mosby and Chalmers, of Mississippi, both of whom have been so warmly welcomed as patriots the Republican party. Since the war Gordon has made no small contributions toward securing a correct understanding, one of the other, between the sections. While always demonstrating earnest affection for the South, he has been a liberalizing factor within it. At home he has inculcated forgetfulness of the strife in which he was so conspicuous a figure, loyalty to our National flag and good will toward the North. At the North, where business and social connections have caused him to spend much of his time, he has plead for the dropping of sectional animosity and sought to transfer Northern energy and capital into the great resources of the South. he has made a host of friends among lead ing Republicans and Democrats, and it THE funeral services of the wife of Justice | is doubtful if there is one Sanator with whom he served who would not look with approval upon the recognition of him by the Democratic administration.

A DEAD DEMAGOGICAL DICKER. When Mr. Eli J. Ritter, answering a question two weeks since remarked, "the Prohibitionists expect from the Democratic just what they would have expected from a Republican Legislature-nothing," he uttered. intentionally or unintentionally, a scathing denunciation of Republican pretenses in the late campaign. The plank in the State Republican platform favoring the calling of a Constitutional Convention was a "sop thrown to Cerberus." The Republicans dared not put in a prohibition plank, but with numerous oggles and winks at the Prohibitionists, of whom they were mortally afraid, inserted the other. They had no more intention of allowing prohibition to ride into an amended Constitution than of washing and ironing the "bloody shirt." It was a cheap trick of demagogy which the Prohibitionists were not slow to detect, and so were not caught by it.

The representatives of the people echoed the popular voice as it spoke on the 4th of November when they voted down the proposition to hold a Constitutional Convention. That question was a direct issue in the campaign of 1884. One party opposed, the other advocated the convention. The party opposing it was preferred at the polls by a decisive majority. Along with Messrs. Blaine, Calkins and the bloody shirt went down the proposition for the convention. The Prohibitionists did not care for it if it was to be holden under Republican auspices. With the Republicans the movement was only a demagogical dicker, which deserved

ENORMOUS PROFITS. A very bad memory serves a good part to some people. It requires a very shrewd lawyer to meet the requirements of witnesses with treacherous memories. After a very bad memory, for utility under certain circumstances, comes the convenient memoryone that can remember or not, as the exegencies of the occasion demand. Such an one seems to be in the possession of Mr. C. P. Huntington. The New York Herald gives as an example of Mr. Huntington's forgetfulness that when on the witness stand last Wednesday, he could not state within $20,-000,000 what were his profits in the Central Pacific. He admitted finally that they were less than $5,000,000. The Herald declares that his share of the profits was in the neighborhood of $41,000,000. It reasons thus. There were four in the syndicate, of which Mr. Huntington was one. This syndicate put into the road $1,000,000. They have drawn already "$165,000,000 in stocks, bonds, dividends and similar forms, and from the other enterprises to which the Central Pacific served as a stepping stone this syndicate hopes to bag another $165,000,000

If Mr. Huntington was entitled to onefourth of the profits, he drew more than $41.-000,000. Such gigantic operations were never possible until the Republican party began to shape the legislation of the country. We merely refer to this to soothe the feelings of certain reputable members of the Republican party who may perchance continue to mourn over the November defeat of the "grand old party."

THE TWO RECORDS. Governor Gray has made a record in favor of th violation of the law. It will return to plague him before the expiration of his term of office. - Jour-

Governor Porter's record was not simply "in favor of the violation of the law," but one that absolutely violated it. It has returned to plague him at the expiration of his term of office. The law made it obligatory upon him to investigate the condition of the the matter pretty freely, and express sur- | State Treasury. He was in official position to pursue this plain provision of the law. again so soon after a conference which it is and absolutely never made an attempt in the direction indicated. At the end of his term of office, with his party broken and demoralized, when necessary to garner party capital for future campaigns, he suggests to Democrats since his first conference with the Legislature that the State Treasury needs looking into, and thus lift the load from a duty which the law made obligatory upon him. This course at once arouses suspicion on a sensitive point. He is promptly seconded by the Republican organs, and to distract attention and to mix matters more thoroughly some flimsy nonsensical insinutions are made on our new Governor at the very outset of his administration.

SENATOR FOULKE verified on yesterday the characterization of his friends that he is a times a subtle humorist. Referring to his having refused to vote for Blaine, avowed that he had never been reproached therefor by his Republican friends, and thus argued the Republican party as being so liberal as to approve utter independence on the part of its members. Shades of Horace Greeley and Charles Sumner, what a bit of irony was that! With what grim smiles would George William Curtis, Henry Ward Beecher, Carl Schurz, John P. St. John, John T. Dye, Lindley Vin. ton, Lucius B. Swift, and our colored Republicans. Messrs. Harrison, Carter and Hill, have listened to Mr. Foulke's speech! Verily the Senator from Wayne has an ironical

THERE must be a good deal after all in the boasting of our brothers down South over the resources of that section. It was difficult for Pennsylvania to believe, for a long while, the fabulous stories of richer coal and iron bads than she had noder Randallite protection. But now comes the supplemental discovery of kerosens oil. According to the Atlanta Constitution a long abandoned well in Macon has just been found to be flowing with this illuminating fluid. The country therearound is agog over the flud. A hearty, brainy, manly, eloquent fellow, With natural oil, coal, iron, fine water power beside the cotton fields, and so excellent a paper as the Constitution to advertise these resources of wealth, the South should soon be rich and independent.

Enfercing Law. To the Editor of the Sentine: order, viz .: "That all the laws be enforced." The board is not a legislative body. It can enforced, and a direction to enforce all laws would seem to imply that there are some that have not been enforced. The construction put upon this expression of sentiment by a portion of the city press is that the meaning of the board is that their declaratended to be a strike only at saloon-keepers, and as they are now made the scapegoats for into politics, the police to please this class rush in and arrest bar-tenders and saloon owners. It is a great moral question, this: Shall a man sell liquor five minutes after 11 o'clock at night? It is far more important according to some critics, that he should sell this liquor just a few minutes before the hour named, and the cause of temperance is much benefited by it. I can not see wherein the morals of a community are benefited by splitting hairs on these technical questions affecting the time a man swallows his liquid damnation. While the guardians of our property and our rights and privileges are ngaged in this business of arresting persons for technical violations of law, allow me to call their attention to constant viorations of aw that are not affected by matters of secends, minutes or hours, but apply to every wenty-four hours of the day. On Meridian street the express companies blockade the street and sidewalk fronting the Union Depot all the time with trucks, barrels, kegs, boxes, etc., and one square further south a [Communicated.] New Palestine, Ind., Jan. 23,-Benjamin reeman, the most prominent citizen of this place, died on the afternoon of the 21st. The funeral services will be held hereon Sunday. He will be interred at Crown Hill Cemetery, Indianapolis, on Monday.

Mr. Freeman was, through life, a successful man of business and leaves a considerable fortune to his family. For thirty years he has been engaged in general merchandising here and at Fountaintown, Ind., and has also been an extensive stock and raiser. He was born Butler County, Ohio, October 12, 1827, two years of age, with his parents, moved to Marion County, Indiana, where he remained up to the age of twenty-seven, when he came to New Palestine, where he has since fesided and been honored as one of the first citizens of Hancock County. He was married in 1855 to Mary A. Maple, of Rush County, who, with their four children, survive him. Mr. Freeman enjoyed good health until November last, when he was attacked with paralysis of the brain, from which, though receiving the best medical attention, he never recovered.

LABOR AND TRADE.

ERNST H. FAUT.

The Cutting Down of the Erie Road to the Standard Gauge Will Give Employment to Many.

PORT JERVIS, N. J., Jan. 23 .- The Erie Railroad will begin on Monday to take up the third rail on the Honesdale branch. This is preliminary to taking it up the entire length of the road, thus using only the standard gauge on the Delaware branch. The construction of forty locomotives will be necessary, and the machine shops at Susque hanna were put on full time yesterday. Three hundred additional men will be put on in a short time. There is a probability that many men will be employed all slong the road. which will give a boom to the entire country through which the road passes, now almost prostrated by the dull usiness of the road. The Glass Business.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 23 .- The depression in the window glass business, it is claimed by manufacturers, will necessitate a reduction in the scale of wages for next year, and the probabilities are that a suspension will be two two months shut-down for the sammer, will close the factories until September 1, circumstance, they suggest that the Senator | him, and force others, if possible, to perform | when the new scale will go into effect. Fears are entertained by some that a strike will be the result, but manufacturers do not expect any trouble.

Great Demand for Locomotives. SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Jan. 23 .- A large order for locomotives has been received by the Schenectady Locomotive Works from the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, and an additional force of men will be put to work next week. Edward Ellis, Treasurer of the Company, says the order is sufficiently large to keep a big force employed until next summer.

A Philadelphia Juryman Goes Raving Mad When Deprived of His Whisky.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.-Yesterday afternoon the jury which had been listening for several days to the trial of the suit of Henry C. French against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company retired to deliberate.

As no agreement was reached before nightfall they were left in the Court-room in charge of Officer McKenny. At 3 o'clock this morning an unusual noise occurring inside, the officer opened the door and immediately one of the jurymen rushed at him brandishing a pair of scissors.

The officer retreated, when a lively chase ensued upstairs and down, through the courts and hallways, until at length the officer reached the door and yelled police and murder. One of the reserves succeeded in reducing the juror to a passive state.

The Judge this morning discharged the juryman. The other jurymen were relieved from further consideration of the case. The crazy juror was suffering from unusual deprivation of alcoholic stimulants.

A CHICAGO INFERNAL MACHINE.

Medical Students Arrested for Stealing Public Library Books-Among Them |An Infernal Machine and Dynamite Cartridges Were Found.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23 -A young man, whose real name is Otto Funk, was arrested last night for baving in his possession a large number of books stolen from the Public Library. The books were seized at his residence, which was found in large boxes. These boxes were removed to the City Hall building to-day, when the discovery was made that among them were six or eight infernal machines, containing dynamite, one of which was sufficient to blow up the entire building. Consternation reigned at police headquarters when the discovery was made, and a number of startling rumors were at once put sfloat. Funk, when questioned, said he was only experimenting. The matter is still a mystery.

The box found among the stolen books was a foot long and six inches deep. Inside of it was a lot of sawdust packed about a revolver. The sawdust was saturated with glycerine. A little crank made of thick wire was attached to the outside of the box. Still another box, about twice the size of the first one, was filled with a doxen packaordered from April 1, which, including the | ges of dynamite. Funk has been known as J. C. Talbert, and was a student at the Chicago Medical College, and contends that he was experimenting for scientific purposes only. The detectives, however, are divided in their views, and contend that he intended to commit suicide by this method, if arrested. A statement was also made that he was an active Socialist, but this was denied. A statement is made by the police that if the machine had exploded its force would have certainly demolished the City Hall building and occasioned a frightful loss of life.

THE WEATHER.

A Fall of About Six Inches of Snow Reported from Illinois.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23 .- It has been snowing steadily here since early this morning, and dispatches from various points throughout the Northwest report a severe snow storm. In Chicago the snow fall was still in progress at 11 p. m., but during the evening it had been descending less heavily than in the preceding hours. The specials to-night shows the northern and middle portions of Illinois have had an average of six inches more snow added to the thick coating already on the ground. Trains are all subjected to more or less delay, but nothing of an exceptionally serious nature has as vet been reported.

Loss of Live Stock in Texas.

GALVESTON, Tex., Jan. 23,-A special to the News from Colorade City reports a heavy snow storm in progress. The weather for a week past has been very severe on cattle and sneep. If the storms continue the loss of live stock will be very great. Reports of losses are constantly coming in. Specials from Gainsville and other Northern Texas points say there was a heavy rain to-day and freezing to-night. Cattle are dying rapidly.

Tammany Ball Meeting.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 .- The Tammany Hall Committee on Organization elected the following officers to night: Chairman, John Kelly, First Vice Chairman, Hugh J. Grant, the recent nominee for Mayor; Second Vice Chairman, Police Justice John Gorman. A committee was appointed to arrange for a delegation to attend the inauguration of President Cleveland. Rollin M. Squires, the new Commissioner of Public Works, was elected a member of the committee from his district. Mr. Squires was also elected a member of the County Democracy last week. In each case he says he will "consider the matter."

Haines for Permanent Chairman.

Springtield, Ill., Jan. 23 .- The House assembled at 9 o'clock and soon afterward adjourned until Monday evening. The Democrats desire to secure the attendance of all their members, the caucus having decided last night to elect Haines as permanent Chairman.

The Bee Keepers.

There was a full attendance at the second and last day's session of the Indiana Bee Keepers' Association. A very interesting paper was read yesterday morning by T. T. Nirder, of Purdue College, on the "Bee Sting." He also exhibited drawings of the various parts of the bee to illustrate his remarks. Professor Troop, of Purdue, also spoke on the subject at great length, referring particularly to the sting in the queen bee. Mrs. Lucinda Harrison, of Peoria, then read a paper on "Work for Women," in which she discussed matters pertaining to bee culture. The assuciation then discussed several important subjects, among others that of spring feeding. The impression prevailed that spring feeding was harmful unless judiciously attended to. J. O. Colton, F. L. Dougherty, Mrs. E. Stout and David Leming were then appointed delegates to the National Bee Keepers' Meeting, to be held in New Orleans, February 24. A box of alleged honey purchased in this city was then passed around, and everybody who was unfortunate enough to be persuaded to taste the same condemned it in round terms. In the afternoon Governor Gray addressed the meeting on the subject of the adulteration of honey, and said he was of the opinion that stringent laws should be passed compelling persons who deal in adulterated goods to brand the same, so that consumers would know what they were buying. In conclusion the Governor complimented the association in the highest terms because of the work it was doing

The association received an invitation to attend a meeting of the bee-keepers of Hendricks and Boone Counties, on June 18, after which they adjourned. The association will mest in this city one year hence.

The bill requiring the effects of alcohol on the human system to be taught in the common schools of the State was ordered engrossed yesterday after an ineffectual motiod by Mr. Williams of Knox to strike out the enacting clause. The Senate continued the consideration of the Foulke Constitutional Convention bill yesterday morning and several members again participated in the discussion. The minority report was not adopted, the vote standing 29 to 16 against it. The concurrent resolution concerning an amendment to the Constitution, making county offices four years' terms, was called up yesterday and ordered engrossed. The resolution also provides that no one holding such an office shall be eligible to reelection to the same. The Democratic caucus to nominate candidates for Librarian and other offices will meet on Thursday night. In the meantime the candidates are becoming more aggressive, and the Senators and Representatives are frequently called out into the cloak room to listen to their appeals. Senator Fowler made an effort yesterday afternoon to call up his resolution concerning the expenditures for the new Insane Hospitals by moving to suspend the rules. The motion was opposed and the yeas and ns ys demanded. By a vote of 26 to 20 the Senate determined to proceed with the regu-

Senator Campbell, of St. Joseph, has introduced a bill to regulate the convict labor of the State. It provides that convicts shall not be employed for more than eight hours per day; that they shall be divided into classes, the able-bodied not to be let for less than eight and one-half cents per hour, the middle class for seven cents and the feeble for five and one-half cents. Representative Best, of Steuben, has prepared a fee and salary bill, fixing the salary of the State officers at a certain specified sum, and empowering the Board of County Canvassers to fix the salaries of county officers. Under the provisions of the bill all perquisites shall be turned into the State and county treasuries. Mr. Best argues that as the county must pay its employes, it should have the right, through its Commissioners, to fix the salaries. The committee having in charge the bill to place the appointment of County School Superintendents in the hands of the Boards of County Commissioners reported vesterday and recommended that the same be indefinitely postponed. The subject led to an animated discussion and the bill was finally amended by providing that the Superintendent shall be elected by the people and shall hold his office for a period of four years. The bill provides for a salary of $2 50 per day when actually employed, and the first election will take place in Novemper, 1886, the offices being supplied by an election by the Township Trustees until the November election.

A bill has been prepared and will soon be introduced in the House, which contains a number of provisions touching the erection of a new Union Depot in this city. It is in the interest of the Union Railway Company and gives to the company the requisite authority for the issuing of bonds, and ex-plicitly defines the powers, duties and liabilities of the union corporation and the proprietary companies; also, to take the conveyances and release in fee simple or otherwise, of rights of way, and of such real estate as it may deem necessary for the purpose aforesaid, and may condemn in fee simple or otherwise so much real estate and such rights of way as it may deem necessary for the purpose aforesaid or any of them. Mr. Townsend's Civil Rights bill was reported from committee yesterday, with the recommendation that it be indefinitely postponed. After a statement by the author of the bill it was recommitted. Mr. Town-send is the colored Representative from Wayne, and has promised to say something on its merits at the proper time. During a discussion on the question of recommittal Mr. Browning took occasion to say that he had examined the statutes and had found no discrimination other than the law prohibiting amalgamation, and that he would never vote for intermarriage between blacks and whites, Mr. Townsend said that this was one of the points which he proposed to discuss at the proper time.

The matters connected with the proposed investigation of the State Treasury affairs came up for discussion in the Senate again yesterday afternoon on the return of the Senate Joint Resolution and the McMullen substitute for the House resolution, which practically provides for an investigation of ex-Governor Porter. The Senate unanimonsly adopted an amendment to the Mc-Mallen substitute, as follows: "And such committee shall have authority to send for persons and papers, administer oaths to witnesses, have access to all books, papers, vouchers and documents in possession of the Treasurer of State that pertain to the business of said officer, and shall make full and thorough investigation of the condition of the State Treasury."
